What is Applied Kinesiology?

Applied Kinesiology (AK) muscle testing is a diagnostic tool that opens a window into having a dialog with the patient’s body. In Applied Kinesiology, every muscle in the body is related to a specific organ, gland, and acupuncture meridian. Through testing of specific muscles, the doctor can locate structural, biochemical and emotional imbalances in the body and identify the proper method of correction.

Health care professionals using Applied Kinesiology are trained to use the structure of the body, through accurate muscle testing, as well as gait and posture evaluation in harmony with standardized medical history and diagnosis to find the best course of treatment for the patient.

Dr. Robert Ciprian will teach you how to apply the tools that you have learned as a health care professional in a way that will have the quickest and longest lasting results with your patients. Imagine having a dialog with the body that can instantly tell you which supplement to give, how to correct structural imbalances, and where to start with even the toughest patients.

Acupuncture Meridian Therapy

Since 1970 Applied Kinesiologists have been working with the basic acupuncture meridians. There are relations between the meridians and muscles of the body and we can use this knowledge to assist people in their quest for optimal health. Dr. Ciprian is excited to share this information with you and to help you master the techniques.

What you will learn:

- Applied Kinesiology meridian diagnosis and holistic treatment procedures
- 24 hour clock treatment protocol
- 5 element treatment protocol
- Posture and gait correlations for related meridians
- Using meridian therapy for overall health
- Using meridian therapy for pain relief
- Spinal and extremity correlations for meridian therapy
- Related practical clinical nutrition
